

Guest Editorial on Rivers Use

Editor's Note: The following was written and presented at the public hearing held in Grayling, concerning Senate Bill No. 1506 [Regulating Rivers Use] on August 18th by Michael C. Steele, Chamber of Commerce Executive Manager. We felt our readers would be interested in its contents.

Mr. Chairman, panelists and citizens, my name is Michael C. Steele and I am speaking today on behalf of the over 180 members of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce as Executive Manager of that organization.

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce has, on a number of occasions expressed its opposition to Senate Bill 1506, as introduced by Senators Kammer and Faust. As yet our position has not changed. We would like to explain the reasons for our opposition and express why we feel Senate bill 1506 is a serious threat to our community, our economy, the personal freedoms of all citizens, and our system of government.

On the surface Senate Bill 1506 seems harmless enough, in fact it seems to have some merit, but when one carefully considers the implications, and understands the background of such regulations it becomes frightening.

Senate Bill 1506 is in reaction to the long standing problem of river-usage conflicts. It is a real and recognized problem, acknowledged by all parties in the dispute... fishermen, canoeists, and riparian owners. All agree that some kind of solution is necessary, but none agree on the extent of regulation necessary to insure an equitable solution.

In 1972 the Department of Natural Resources, a bureau of state government, attempted unsuccessfully to implement its controversial River Use Rules. These rules and their constitutionality were challenged in court. After hearing the arguments, the courts declared them unconstitutional, claiming that the Department of Natural Resources was usurping authority not specifically granted to them by Michigan's elected representatives in the legislature.

Senate Bill 1506 is a thinly veiled attempt to give the bureaucrats in the DNR a blank check to enact rules which would have the effect of law. This is distortion of democracy in the worst sense, and for this reason alone the bill should be killed. Legislators elected by the people of this state should have the courage to consider legislation which will correct abuses, and preserve our environment, while minimizing the infringement on personal liberties. Our democratic system of government, with its built in checks and balances, has safeguards which prevent the types of abuses which occur all too often in the empire-building bureaucratic system.

Anyone who has knowledge of the political shenanigans that occur in Lansing, day in and day out, has the foresight to see what's coming down the pike, if Senate Bill 1506 passes. The 1972 DNR River Use Rules will be implemented one day after the bill is signed into law.

The Senators who introduced this bill, the DNR, and the special interest groups who promote it are fully cognizant of this fact. They fully realize that the 1972 DNR River Use Rules, in the form of legislation, specifically spelled out, would have no change of passage in the legislature... hence SB 1506 and its vagueness.

Let's take a moment to analyze the extremes of the 1972 DNR River Use Rules, and consider their ramifications. Under these rules the DNR would have the authority to (1) designate protected rivers (2) limit or eliminate use of such waters, and (3) require usage permits. This would give the DNR the ability to promulgate canoe liveries into non-existence; limit the general public's freedom to obtain fun, healthy recreation; and in general, impinge on what little personal freedom bureaucracy has not already stolen. 1934 is seemingly closer than we think.

I personally question the constitutionality of such legislation. I can imagine the howls we'd hear from Senators Kammer and Faust, if one of their colleagues introduced legislation which would give the State Highways and Transportation Department the authority to set limits on the number of vehicles permitted on state roads. When such legislation drastically affected their constituents from freedom of movement or worse yet, their livelihood, you could be sure Kammer and Faust would be the first to cry "Foul".

Yet this is precisely the effect SB 1506 would have on our area. According to a 1974 Northeast Michigan Regional Planning and Development Commission study, canoeing alone accounts for $1.4 Million of the total local economy in Crawford County. Contributions to the local economy from riparian owners, and fishermen are very sizable also, although a precise figure is difficult to obtain.

This bill and its companion the 1972 DNR River Use Rules would impose intolerable restrictions on the recreational public, to curb abuses of 5% of the rivers users. A classic example of overkill, the cure is worse than the problem.

To summarize our position briefly: we believe that equitable solutions are needed to end river usage abuses, but Senate Bill 1506, with its generalities and its "blank check for bureaucracy" is an invitation to disaster. Let's see a new bill which specifically spells out and limits the DNR's authority to regulate river use abuses, passed by officials elected by the people of the State of Michigan to represent their interests.

Michigan's rivers do not belong to the Department of Natural Resources, or the fishermen, or the riparian owners, or the canoeists. We merely borrow them, remembering that generations that follow are entitled to them as well. Thank you.

APPROXIMATELY 70 ACRES of jack pine were destroyed in a late afternoon fire Monday, according to Duane Brooks of the Department of Natural Resources. The fire was spotted around 3:30 p.m. by a fish biologist flying over the area in a private aircraft. Brooks said the fire began near Staley Lake road and Four Mile road, crowned out and headed toward Jellystone Park.

Fire fighters were able to stop the blaze only after it came within an eighth of a mile of the campground which had been evacuated by the DNR and the National Guard.

Fire fighting units from Missaukee, Roscommon and Oscoda Counties were involved as well as equipment from Mio and the National Guard. The exact cause of the fire is not known, Brooks said, except that it apparently began at the end of a trail road.

Crews were still at work Tuesday morning making sure the fire was totally extinguished.

38th Infantry Soldier of the Year

The outstanding Soldier of the Year for the 38th Division of the National Guard was honored at a Chamber of Commerce Luncheon held August 12 at the Holiday Inn. Specialist 4th Class Joseph A. Streif was given this award on the basis of all-round military expertise, and general conduct.

MG Morehead, BG Weliver, BG LaMoreaux, and other Guard Officers were also on hand for the occasion. About 20 area business and civic leaders were on hand to show their appreciation for a job well done.

On behalf of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, President Paul Thomson, presented SFC 4th Class Joseph Streif with gift certificates from the following local merchants: McDonald's, The Village Shop, Davis Jewelry, Ray's Canoe Livery and The Back Porch. Ralph Stevens of Bear Archery presented the outstanding soldier with a Bear Archery display bow, and a compound bow.

The recognition luncheon is an annual event for the Grayling Chamber of Commerce.

Kim Mires, 12 Electrocuted

Kimberley Mires, the 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mires of Paddle Brave Canoe Livery on the South Branch of the AuSable River, was electrocuted Sunday afternoon when she grabbed a drain pipe on an electric pump that was evidently shorting out, according to Crawford Co. Sheriff's deputies.

Kim and her sister, Sandi, were going up-river in a kayak when Kim attempted to get out on shore. According to her sister she slipped on a log and fell. In doing so she grabbed onto the drain pipe on a pump that was being used to water a lawn, officers said.

Three men from the Gerrish Rescue Squad tried to revive her but to no avail. The Crawford County Sheriff's Department received the call at 4:22 Sunday afternoon.

Kim's mother is the former Linda Smock and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Smock of Grayling.

Kirtland's Warbler Habitat Project Underway

LANSING — Nearly 1,000 acres of cutover state forest land in Ogemaw County are scheduled for burning under close supervision of the Department of Natural Resources in Michigan's first major project to improve the habitat of the endangered Kirtland's warbler.

John D. Byelich, DNR wildlife biologist who heads a state-federal endangered species recovery team, says the controlled fire will allow for regeneration of new growth jackpine — the preferred habitat for the Kirtland's warbler, whose world population is estimated at only 400.

Byelich says heat from the fire is needed to open up jackpine cones to release the seed, while the newly exposed mineral soil becomes ideal for seed germination.

Ironically, effective forest fire control in recent years has contributed to the decline of Kirtland's warbler nesting areas by allowing trees to mature. The bird, which fascinates biologists and others because of its very restrictive habitat requirements, typically lives and also breeds in Christmas tree-size stands of jackpine — only in Michigan's Ogemaw, Roscommon, Oscoda and Crawford counties. (It winters in the Bahamas).

"This year's burn areas are located just northeast of St. Helen, although similar prescribed burns are anticipated in the years to come in parts of these counties as the habitat outgrows the Kirtland's warbler," states Byelich. "The goal is to eventually stabilize the bird's population to about 1,000 nesting pairs, or about the number recorded as late as 1961. To do that, we would like to keep about 36,000 acres of public land in habitat production range at all times for the Kirtland's

Building Code Tightened

[By B.J. Fowler, Grayling Twp. Supervisor]

Recent correspondence from the Michigan Department of Labor, Barrier Free Design Board indicates they are going to tighten the enforcement of the barrier free design rules. The Michigan construction code provides that every facility (Building, Structure or Improved Area) in the State of Michigan, built or renovated since November 1974, must be barrier free (accessible to and usable by everyone including people with all types of handicaps - mobility limited, visual and hearing impaired, wheelchair users etc.) as defined by the general rules of the State Construction Code Commission. Only exception: Privately owned one and two family dwellings.

Responsibility for enforcement of these rules has generally been handed to the local building officials. In my experience I have found people in this area somewhat reluctant to accept these state requirements. To a great extent I believe this is due to a lack of understanding of the requirements.

In the above mentioned correspondence, Herbert R. Mueller, O.D., Chairman of the Barrier Free Design Board states, "While the board will not abandon its efforts to eliminate confusion and provide more and better information, it is now obvious that we must turn to you, the building official, for self education, and to ask for complete enforcement of all rules as they presently exist, confusing or difficult to comply with as they may be. You as the local enforcement agency, are the key to compliance, and on your understanding and alertness our board must depend." Mr. Mueller goes on to state, "Owners, architects and public officials all may face legal proceedings in the future if exceptions are not requested prior to issuance of a building permit."

I have received notice of a public hearing on [See Building Code on page 14]

Youth Services on AuSable

We are presently removing trash in the Pull-over area. From Grayling downstream to the Pull-over, we have removed over twenty, 55 gallon bags of garbage. I guess the real amazing part is some local residents remember when they removed truck loads from the same area. I wonder if that says anything positive about patrol and control of our rivers?

Very soon a petition will be distributed in the Grayling area suggesting increased fines for both intentional littering and accidental littering. I urge all of you to sign this petition.

Again we are proud to present yet another list of kind people that are supporting our Clean-up Program: Carr's Pioneer Canoe Livery, $50.00; Lorraine M. Falling, $10.00; Jim's Canoe Livery - Wakeley's Bridge, $50.00; Ruth Grutch, $10.00; Penrod's Canoes, $50.00; Dr. Jim Hall - Traverse City, $10.00; Dr. Paul Dosch, $10.00; Bear Archery, $50.00 and Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Steffe, $15.00. We thank you.

As a follow-up to Youth Services cleaning the AuSable, I urge all property owners and other concerned citizens to turn people in to authorities that you see littering. We cannot hope to keep the river clean unless all of us become involved in prosecuting those people who are littering.

With six weeks remaining in our program we hope to raise approximately five hundred dollars more so that we can continue to utilize as many young people as possible. If you are interested in supporting this program, please submit a check to: Youth Services, Crawford County Courthouse, Grayling, Mich. 49738.

Thanks again for helping the youth in your community and cleaning the river at the same time.

Robert Smock, Jr.
Youth Services Director

Reg and Sally Ashton of Bridgeport spent last week in Grayling visiting relatives, the George Grangers, the Larry Gusts, and their son, Dale Ashton, who now lives in Grayling. They also visited in Cheboygan and spent a day with his parents, Ken and Flossie Ashton in Onaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinkert spent two weeks camping in their trailer in the UP. They spent most of their time at Rivers Bend in Iron Mountain and enjoyed visiting with friends there. While they were gone, her mother, Mrs. George Schaible and aunt, Mrs. Lucille Hewitt, visited Mrs. Hewitt's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mings in Grand Ledge and also visited friends and relatives in Lansing.

Rev. and Mrs. George Spencer and family spent his 3 1/2 week vacation camping in the UP and the northern half of the lower peninsula. Their daughter, Brenda, joined them on her days off.

We had the pleasure of spending the weekend in Muskegon with the Keith Bovees. On Saturday night we enjoyed seeing what is billed as the world's largest musical fountain, a computerized and synchronized program of music and water fountains, in Grand Haven. The fountain program is a weekly feature and an added attraction was the yearly yacht regatta going up the Grand River.

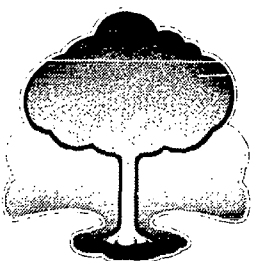

Mrs. Mary Rasmussen of Lansing became a proud grandmother. Her daughter, Sharon, had a baby boy, David Verner, and daughter, Anna, had a girl, Mary Ann. They are the daughters of the late Verner Rasmussen and granddaughters of Elsie Anderson. Elsie now has 4 great grandchildren.

Elsie Mae Hanson, niece of Elsie Anderson, visited her for two weeks. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanson from Port Huron. They were well known here in Grayling.

Also attending the Harold-Kangas wedding in East Lansing recently were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nielsen and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor and children, from Grayling.

From her AuSable River cabin near McMaster's Bridge, Eva Jean Smith was invited by friends to visit the Mackinac Island Yacht Club Aug. 12th to await the arrival of the Tall Ship, "Erawan", which was one of the vessels that called up New York Harbor on July 4th. With her friends on their sailing yacht "The Sea Wolf" she sailed out into the Straits to watch for the Erawan, a Swedish built luxurious 150 foot long, 30 foot wide ship which was converted to a Charter Ship in 1972. It arrived from Detroit, and Aug. 14th left for Milwaukee. The Erawan is one of several Tall Ships sailing the Great Lakes this month. It will be in Grand Haven at 2 p.m., August 23rd. Gov. Milliken was in residence on Mackinac Island, and was entertaining the Governor of Minnesota in his summer residence there. The Governor and his party were also awaiting the arrival of the Tall Ship at the Yacht Club. After it was in the harbor, people were allowed to tour the Erawan.

Following dinner some of the members watched the start of the canoe races and then ended up the evening visiting at the homes of a couple of classmates.

Attending the reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. John Sorenson, Benton Harbor; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Smith (Janice Stewart), Bellair; Mr. and Mrs. James Bentley, (Janet Rowland), Goderich, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crooks (Pam Smith), Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fox, Milford, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sullivan - (Barbara Crouch), Columbus, Ohio; Mark Day, Lansing; Doug Berry, Farmington; Mike Gardiner, Green Bay, Wis.

Those from Grayling were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gorman (Janet Stephan), Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Rochette (Lottie Jurkovich), Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bobenmoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Terry SanCartier (Sharon Palmer), Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen (Sharon Long), Nancy Fenton Renaud, Doug Nielsen, Mr. and Mrs. George Stancil and John Millikin. The sponsor of the class, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bovee, and former high school principal, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fenton, also attended.

From Our Corner...

WE ARE OUTRAGED at the stupid, melodramatic editorial that appeared in the Detroit Free Press last week referring to the Kirtland Warbler vs Guard.

Before our downstate colleagues decide on an issue they wish to editorialize on — we suggest they find out all of the facts before they run off at the mouth, which only produces more stupidity from those who read their trash.

The author of this editorial evidently had nothing to write about at the time, and must have picked up an AP wire story of a fire in the Warbler's nesting area ... and produced a veiled image of the true story, but, after stating "the Guard's negligence clearly would seem in violation of an endangered species act, and hoping the Dept. of Interior, would prosecute the Michigan Guard," the writer finished the paragraph with 8 words that should have also been capitalized — "if that is found to be the case."

From what we read about Detroit — may we suggest the Free Press start guarding their own environment as they claim, and leave the north country to us natives ... we do not need the foolhardy publicity that was turned out last week.

Now for the gem ... this writer had the gall to relate to his readers a solution would be to move the guard from Camp Grayling. Now you tell me how a person in Detroit can decide what is best for the economy 300 miles north of his ivory tower.

Also, and it is most evident from his remarks, the poor chap doesn't know the difference between a Sherman tank and a B-32 bomber, when he suggests moving the guard to Kincheloe Air Base.

It would be interesting to watch an "Honest John" rocket ricochet off the landing pad and demolish the Soo Locks ...

He also stated, better yet, perhaps the Guard should phase out its whole Camp Grayling operation and move to the Kincheloe base. Camp Grayling could then be run as a state recreation area, which should generate far more income for the area than the present Guard encampment.

Now we ask this self-proclaimed protector of the Endangered Species Act of 1973, what he would propose for the year around employees at Camp Grayling that generates over $2,500,000 to our economy, and not counting the untold dollars spent here during the summer encampments.

No, Crawford County does not need this kind of harassment, too much of the land is already controlled by the Federal and State government.

Like we mentioned before — guard Detroit, it needs it more, we somehow will take care of ourselves.

The Bible Speaks

from Calvary Baptist Church

The God of Salvation

"And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of Jehovah shall be delivered; for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as Jehovah hath said, and among the remnant those whom Jehovah will call." Joel 2:32 A.S.V. The entire Old Testament makes it clear that Jehovah is the God of our Salvation or Deliverance.

In the New Testament it is made clear that the Lord Jesus Christ is the Jehovah we must call upon to be saved. "Because if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved; for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek; for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon him; for, Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." Romans 10:9-13 A.S.V.

The Bible makes it clear that one who does not confess Jesus as Lord with his whole heart cannot be saved. The Lord of the Old Testament and the Lord of the New Testament are one and the same. To confess Jesus Christ as less than Lord is to question or deny His substitutionary death, burial and resurrection for sins; your sins and mine. If Jesus Christ is not Lord over sin, death and Hell, He is not Lord at all. The Bible says He is "Lord of all". He is just as much Lord to the believing Jew of the Old Testament as He is Lord to the believing Gentile of the New Testament. The absolute, supreme Lordship of Jesus Christ is a cardinal doctrine of Bible Christianity.

It is possible for one to be completely orthodox in doctrine and still not be a Christian. You may believe Jesus Christ died on the cross for your sins. You may believe He was buried and rose again bodily from the grave on the third day. You may believe He is the true Lord of the Bible. But until you call upon Him to forgive you of your sins and to come into your heart, you are still not a born-again Christian. Signing a church membership card will not do it. Being baptized cannot do it. Praying will not even do it, unless you call upon the Lord Jesus Christ to forgive you for all of your sins and to enter your heart by faith.

Yes, the Lord Jesus Christ is the only God of Salvation. But He is only the God of Salvation to those who fully trust in His Person, His Work and His Word, and have called upon His name alone for personal forgiveness of sins and eternal life. Please do it today! (adv.)

Cox Attends Baseball Camp
 Jamie Cox spent 2 weeks of July in Miller, Mo., at the Mickey Owens Baseball Camp, sponsored by the Dodgers. Director of the Camp was Ken Rizzo, former U of M Catcher. Schedules were rigid for the 8 to 19 year-olds. From 9:30 a.m. to 12 Noon was instruction, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. was scrimmage, 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m., they played against Semi-Pros under the lights. Davey Lopes, 2nd baseman for the Dodgers was a guest instructor. Jamie spent one more week at Stockton, Mo., with the Clark Montgomery family. Mrs. Montgomery was the former Sue Williams.

Bride Elect

Almanack Discrimination

Near its Limits

Richard Milliman

One of the lesser known candidates for President this year is Mrs. Margaret Wright of Los Angeles, and after reading about her nomination by the People's Party, I certainly hope she stays that way.

The People's Party, according to the news accounts, got started in the Los Angeles area stemming from the Watts tragedies. Mrs. Wright, 54, is a grandmother, which may turn out to be her most outstanding qualification for the office of President.

As a tipoff to her campaign, it should be noted that her vice presidential running mate is Dr. Benjamin Spock, who did just fine writing books about how to bring up children, but got sort of fouled up when he switched to politics.

Mrs. Wright, in her acceptance speech, offered these comments, as quoted by the national news services:

"I've been discriminated against because I'm a woman, because I'm black, because I'm poor, because I'm fat, because I'm left handed."

She's probably right. Apparently Mrs. Wright feels that to have experienced discrimination from so many different angles somehow qualifies her to run for President.

When you stop to think about it, every one of us — in one way or another — belongs to some sort of minority group, and every one of us — in one way or another — can be exposed to discriminatory practices, just as Mrs. Wright outlines.

For example, I too, can be subjected to discrimination and bias for a number of reasons — in today's society, for example, because I'm white, and because I'm a man, and because I'm not poor. So far, these factors have not bothered me especially, and I'm not complaining; but just check out the feelings of some applicants for medical school, shall we say, who were rejected on a quota basis — racial, sexual, financial, or otherwise.

Mrs. Wright has it over me on the left-handed issue, and as for the fat discrimination, in my case it could be a subject at least to honest debate, and I am sympathetic.

But there are other areas that could bring discrimination and bias in subtle ways that we don't often think so much about. For example, in studying my own plight, consider these conditions:

I'm self-employed, and bald, and Catholic, and Republican, and a homeowner. I'm married, and a father, and I'm past 40, and live in an outstate area, and I'm mainly Polish. There are other conditions — lots more — that I could list about myself, just as anyone can these days, that could under certain circumstances, foster discrimination.

Mrs. Wright obviously has had a tough row to hoe, and as long as she has the nomination of the People's Party, or some other legitimate organization, she has every right to run for President, or for anything else.

The point of this essay is simply this: It may be getting almost to the point where the "discrimination" wagon is about to break down from an overload. How far are we, as a society, going to encourage or permit the Mrs. Wrights of today to ride the horse of discrimination, shouting their demands for equality at full voice, pursuing solely on that basis redress for every ill, either real or imagined, either actual or potential?

One of my fruitful sources for borrowing quotations is syndicated columnist George Will, a practicing conservative. Shortly after the recent Democratic national convention, Will penned these ideas on the new Democratic political unity:

"Like an Olympic-class broad jumper, the Democratic party has leapt, in just four years, from ideological extremism and procedural obscuritism to the cheerful determination that this time, by cracky, there will be no nonsense about divisive things — like ideas."

Mr. Will, by the way, is a Republican. Oh? You say you thought so? Hm.

Let's close this offering with some thoughts from my favorite television personality, Charles Kuralt. Asked what it takes "to be a TV news anchor person," Kuralt advised:

"It seems to me, as I travel about the country, that all it takes to be an anchor person is to be under 25, fair of face and figure, dulcet of tone, and well-coiffed."

Somehow, that has become one of my favorite contemporary quotations. Wonder why.

District Court

The following appeared before visiting Judge Frank H. Millner in District Court:

Rodney C. Napier, 30, of Hamilton, Ohio, was arrested by City police on Aug. 16 on a charge of assault and battery. He entered a plea of nolo contendere and was fined $100 and costs.

Jack L. Van Lent, 17, of Grayling, plead guilty to a charge of simple larceny and was sentenced to 3 days in jail and $100 fine and costs. He was arrested by city police on Aug. 10.

Cletus H. Prince, 52, Peshigo, Wis., plead guilty to a charge of being a disorderly person. He was fined $100 and costs. Sheriff's officers arrested him on Aug. 16.

Gerald McGrath, Lewiston, plead not guilty to a charge of being an unlicensed builder. In a trial by court he was found not guilty.

Robert C. Sanback, 17, and Danny M. Blasch, 17, both of Rose City were arrested on Aug. 8 by sheriff's officers and charged with being minors in possession of alcoholic beverage. They plead guilty and were fined $50 and costs.

Old Song and Dance

Jim Fitzgerald

Feedback and other strange stuff... Recently I called Hubert Humphrey a four-flusher for not paying his 1972 campaign debts. This brought me an interesting letter from George Murphy, who used to tap-dance with Shirley Temple.

Murphy was also a U.S. senator for six years, until 1971, a colleague of Sen. Humphrey. I enjoyed Murphy's movie dancing much more than his legislating. Also, I can't help feeling that Murphy's political success probably encouraged Ronald Reagan to move his pompadour out of Death Valley and into the mainstream of the Panama Canal.

So it might be possible to prove this would have been a better world if Murphy had stayed in Hollywood. But that would be a cruel answer to his friendly letter, and I don't feel like being that kind of a twirp today. Instead, let us just ponder the implications of what Murphy had to say about the offensive odor which often seeps out of campaign treasure chests.

You'll recall that Humphrey was stung when I accused him of being a welsler for not repaying more than $800,000 he borrowed to finance his hopeless attempt to gain the Democratic presidential nomination four years ago.

He insisted his hands were clean because the money had been lent to his campaign committee, not to him personally. And he added that the money came from his "personal friends who are very well to do and who are not complaining at all over the fact they received a very small settlement on their loan."

Humphrey further noted that his generous buddies knew when they lent the dough that "there was the possibility that the committee might not be able to repay."

This is what prompted ex-Sen. Murphy to enter the debate. In his letter, Murphy said he would not "lean too hard on a nice fellow like Hubert Humphrey as I am sure there have been many other campaigns which finished in the red and left unpaid bills." But Murphy did have a pointed question about the fund-raising tactics used by Humphrey and many other "nice fellows" who might be crooks.

Murphy asked: "Has it been the custom for politicians to 'borrow' funds for the campaign, then at a later date announce that there are no funds available to repay the loan, and the campaign committee goes out of existence, then is it legal for the person who made the loan to write this off as an uncollectible bad debt, thereby taking a tax credit for the amount involved? I do not know whether or not this has actually been done, but I have heard rumors beginning back in the days of John L. Lewis and Franklin Roosevelt that this had become an accepted practice. If it is so, I believe this is one tax loophole which should be closed."

Murphy suggested that I should "pursue and examine" this matter and perhaps tighten that alleged loophole around some well-known necks. He must think I'm an investigative reporter rather than a lazy columnist. I don't have time to dig through perfumed garbage. I have to take my grandchildren to the zoo.

Besides, Murphy admits suspecting the fraud since the 1930s. He was a U.S. senator for six years and he is still in Washington as director of something called American Cause. George is a heavy man with access to velvet closets. Why has he never found out for himself whether a lot of his old buddies are tax cheats?

Oh well, it's probably a job for the most experienced investigators, anyway. The FBI will probably tackle it as soon as it gets a new director. I understand the appointment will go to Shirley Temple.

I really did take my three grandchildren to the Detroit Zoo. It always depresses me to see animals in cages, but my wife insists it is educational for kids. So, under marching orders, there I was last week, back at the zoo for the first time since 1966. That was the year it was agreed we'd better quit taking our own children to the zoo for fear we'd never get them back out.

The zoo has hit upon hard times, along with the rest of the city, and needs help feeding the animals. Clubs, school kids and other groups have been urged to "adopt" some bears or monkeys or whatever. If I agree to buy dinner every day for an ostrich, for instance, the zoo will reward me by hanging a sign near the ostrich, saying I am its father.

Which is fine. But it doesn't do anything for the zoo grounds which are as littered as the freeways, with scraps of paper growing on every bush. The place is 10 times dirtier than it was 10 years ago.

Somebody should adopt a groundskeeper who wouldn't mind wearing a sign saying his parents are 72 Kiwanians.

Secretary of State Richard Austin says his branch managers installed central air conditioning in his home, and put a fence around it, without him knowing a thing about it.

If Austin ever bumps into a pick-pocket, he could spend the rest of his life nude and never know it.

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee

David Luter of Muskegon spent a week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Malloy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fleagle and children of Chicago Ill., ... spent two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winslow. They left the latter part of the week for Nashville, Tenn. to sightsee and then to Abilene, Kansas to visit his grandmother. Mrs. Winslow accompanied them on their return trip.

A great big "Thank You" to the person or persons responsible for the new sidewalk around the United Methodist Church. That is a definite improvement and I'm sure walkers and churchgoers alike will appreciate it, especially next slushy March.

While I'm on the subject of improvements and appearances, we had the opportunity to visit the Triangle Motel where the Lunds showed us their GORGEOUS fuschias. If you're out for a walk or bicycle ride I'm sure they wouldn't mind your taking a peek at them as well as all of their other hanging plants and the bright red petunias and canoes which are hidden from the main highway.

Kim Layman has been spending a week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Layman. Her parents, Walter and Joan Layman came up on Friday and remained for the weekend taking Kim home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Munroe have spent the summer at her parent's summer home on the AuSable. While here, Candy took graduate work in Traverse City. They returned to their home in Rapid River on Monday.

Local Cancer Society Meets

The Crawford County Board of the American Cancer Society met Tuesday morning, August 17, to assess the recent Crusade and report on the year's activities. Present were Jack Alef, Chairman; JoAnn Olsen, Vice-Chairman; Marilyn Fick, Memorial Chairman; Shirley Rauch, Loan Closet Chairman; Maureen McNamara, Treasurer; Joyce Ingalls, Incoming Treasurer; and Ruth Hoffman, District Representative.

The 1976 Crawford County goal is about $500.00 short this year, with the year ending August 31. Anyone wishing to contribute may send their donation to Mrs. Larry McNamara, 505 Peninsular, Grayling, Mi. 49738.

Mrs. Rauch stated that there is a great need for more hospital beds. Any service groups or individuals who would care to donate same may contact her at 348-9533.

The group would like to give special mention at this time to Maureen McNamara who so willingly filled in to complete the year as Treasurer after we lost Josie McEvers. Also, to Jack Millikin, Inc. for sponsoring the Crusade advertisement and to McDonald's for their contribution of $100.00 at their grand opening.

It should also be pointed out that nearly $2000.00 was spent in Crawford County last year to aid cancer victims. The amount increases yearly.

BUDDING ENGINEER

Can't tell yet whether my son will follow in his Dad's footsteps. Toys don't make an engineer.

But he's learning some of the basic principles of physics with which many professions deal.

On the way home from Church, when he talks about his lesson. I recognize familiar signs... character is still in the mold. Deep conviction, bold dedication come later. But he's grasping those basic truths on which great living rises.

For a busy engineer who used to be hit-or-miss in his church attendance, fostering the growth of a soul is a fascinating experience... especially as I find my own faith deepening with every reverent day!

Can't tell about his following my footsteps. But I've discovered new dimensions in life following his.

Ranger Unit Employs Unique Skills

One of the Michigan Army National Guard's "elite" units, Co. F (Ranger), 425th Inf., is among units currently undergoing annual field training at Camp Grayling.

The Pontiac based unit, which has members scattered throughout Michigan, is considered elite because of the special military skills and physical abilities required of its members, some 70 percent of whom are qualified military parachutists.

In addition to jumping out of airplanes when the mission requires it, the Rangers must also learn how to rappel down the sides of mountains and out of hovering helicopters, navigate over all types of terrain without being observed and subsist "off the land" during long range patrol actions.

The primary mission of the Guard Ranger unit is reconnaissance. In combat operations, the unit sends out patrols to gain tactical and strategic information about enemy operations, including data on troops and supply concentrations, terrain in enemy territory and enemy missile sites.

During their two weeks of annual training at Camp Grayling, the Rangers simulate combat missions by sending out five man patrols. From a base camp, the patrols are airlifted by helicopter into a remote area of the post. After completion of the simulated mission, the Rangers radio for pickup by helicopter and mark their pickup positions with panels and with smoke grenades.

Although at Camp Grayling the patrols operate at distances of only about 10 miles from the base camp, during actual combat they could be employed several hundred miles behind enemy lines.

At Grayling, the patrols go out early in the morning (about 4:30 a.m.) and return the afternoon of the same day. In actual combat, they would normally be on patrol operations three or four days at a time.

Each man on a five man patrol carries upwards of 50 pounds of equipment, including radios, rations, water, sleeping gear, weapons and ammunition.

A patrol normally moves eight to nine miles a day.

The Rangers operate covertly during patrols and wear camouflage at all times. They seldom engage in offensive combat operations but must have the ability to fight their way out when and if discovered by the enemy. For certain types of missions, they can be employed in an offensive role.

VISITS SON IN TUNIS

Mrs. Viola Wilcox of Grayling has returned from a 6-week trip to Tunis, Tunisia, Africa, where she visited her son, John Wilcox and family.

John is with the US Information Service and at present is acting head of the USIS office in Tunis.

Mrs. Wilcox flew from Chicago to Rome where she was met by her family. They remained in Rome for a few days of sight-seeing and then flew to Tunisia. She says she saw many interesting things since their way of life is so different than hers. It is very interesting cities and stayed in Hammamet for several days. They visited the ruins in Carthage and went to Nabeul which is famous for its pottery. They spent some time on the beaches of the Mediterranean and she was fascinated by the souks (stores) which were on narrow streets like alleys but opening onto the street.

Her return trip was through Rome and back to N. Y. and Chicago, but because of delays enroute due to some strikes, it took her 48 hours.

Her daughter and husband, Howard and Louise Hatfield, took her to the Traverse City airport and met her on her return.

Area Fishing Report

RENEE ELIAS, Manton, Mi., with trophy and winning fish.

LARRY WHITT, Traverse City, with winning fish in the men's division.

[By Skip Madsen]

Sunday, August 22, was the 1st Bass Fishing Tournament held on Lake Margrethe that I have ever known of. It was sponsored by the "Northwestern Michigan Bass Masters" a northern Michigan club with some local members.

The top angler for the men's division was Larry Whitt of Traverse City with four bass weighing in at 8 lbs, 5 ozs. A good catch anywhere.

Renee Elias fishing with her sponsor, Paul, under the sponsorship of Blue Star Homes, won both trophies in the women's division with the largest and the most fish.

In all, nine boats entered with two contestants per boat. They fished from 7 a.m. til 2 p.m. Although not a lot of fish were caught the contestants all agreed it was a difficult lake to fish but interesting and we can look for them back next year.

Good Fishing,

GRAYLING MERCANTILE COMPANY

Although he didn't have as much success fighting alongside the British during the Revolutionary War as he did when he opposed them in the French and Indian Wars, Charles Langlade played an important role in the struggle against the American rebels.

A valuable recruiter and leader of Indians — first for the French in hostilities with Great Britain and then for the British during the war for American independence — Langlade had a way with the red men. A native of what is now Michigan and one of the first white settlers of present-day Wisconsin, he was half Indian himself, the son of a French trader and a squaw who was the sister of Ottawa chief Nissawaquet.

When Charles was a child at Michilimackinac (now Mackinaw City, Michigan), Nissawaquet dreamed that the Great Spirit told him he would have success in battle if he took a little boy with him. So the young Langlade went along; and when Nissawaquet and his warriors were victorious, the success was attributed to the boy's presence. From that time, Charles Langlade had considerable influence with Indians of the Great Lakes region.

Langlade and his father, Augustin, began trading with Indians in the vicinity of present-day Green Bay, Wisconsin, in the 1740's and made that post the headquarters of their operations in the mid-1760's. When Augustin died in the early 1770's, Charles became the principal figure in the Fox River valley.

In 1752 he led 250 Ottawa and Chippewa braves in an attack on Pickawillany, a Miami village in what is now Ohio that was a focal point for British trading activities. Three years later Langlade and his Indians were a part of the French force that withstood an assault on Fort Duquesne (now Pittsburgh) by British General Edward Braddock. One of Braddock's aides on that occasion was George Washington, then 23 years old. John Burgoyne, another British general, described Langlade as the author of Braddock's defeat.

Of the 1,373 redcoats in the assault force only 459 escaped injury or death, and Braddock himself was killed during the retreat.

In 1757 Langlade and his Indians were back in action, defeating Rogers' Rangers on Lake Champlain and helping French General Marquis de Montcalm to capture Fort William Henry on Lake George. Two years later Langlade was again with Montcalm, this time in a losing cause at Quebec. Had the French acted quickly when Langlade discovered a detachment of 3,000 British troops, however, the outcome at Quebec might have been different.

Later, when war erupted between Great Britain and the American colonies, Langlade worked tirelessly to enlist Indian fighters for the British just as he had earlier for the French. In 1776 he took a band of Indians to the Montreal area to assist Governor Guy Carleton, and in 1777 he and Indian companions fought under Burgoyne at Lake Champlain.

During the revolution Langlade was assisted in his efforts in behalf of the British by his nephew, Charles Gautier de Verville. In 1778 Langlade, a captain, and Gautier, a lieutenant, were instructed to lead a force of Indians in support of Lt. Gov. Henry Hamilton's expedition against Vincennes. In 1779 when an attack was expected on Detroit by Virginians under George Rogers Clark, Langlade gathered Indians from the Lake Michigan region in a move to head off the expedition which never was undertaken. A year later he led one of four simultaneous British movements against Spanish posts on the Mississippi, but the venture was unsuccessful and Langlade and his Indians retreated by way of Chicago, fleeing in boats and canoes five days before rebel forces arrived there in pursuit of them.

After the war Langlade became reconciled to American control and concentrated on trading activities, principally in the Grand River region in Michigan.

Notice of Intent To Request Funds Release

DATE: August 26, 1976
Crawford County
County Building
Grayling, Michigan 49738
Telephone: Area Code 517 348-3581

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS: The County of Crawford on September 3, 1976 proposes to request the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) to be used for the following project:

REHABILITATION OF EXISTING HOMES IN THE COMMUNITIES OF THE CITY OF GRAYLING, GRAYLING TOWNSHIP, AND THE VILLAGE OF FREDERIC.

The proposed rehabilitation financing for existing homes in the three target communities will enable qualified home owners to repair and/or replace exterior and interior features to meet minimum standards established by the BOCA Housing Code.

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the environment, and accordingly, the County of Crawford has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190).

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the above named County of Crawford which documents the Environmental Review of the project and sets forth the reasons why such statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying at the Clerk's office between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The following text is in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of Section 58.30 (a) "Publication of Notice":

The County of Crawford will undertake the project described above with Block Grant Funds from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The County of Crawford is certifying to HUD that the County of Crawford and Mr. Fred Kauffman, in his official capacity as Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to Environmental Reviews, decision making and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the County of Crawford may use the Block Grant Funds and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases:

(a). That the certification was not in fact executed by the Chief Executive Officer of the applicant; or

(b). That applicant's Environmental Review Record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the Environmental Review process.

Objections must be prepared, and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD at the Detroit area office, First National Building, 600 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan, 48226. Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after September 29, 1976 will be considered by HUD.

Mr. Fred Kauffman, Chairman Crawford County Board of Commissioners Grayling, Michigan 49738

If you're concerned about the cost of education!

The least expensive way to get your education is to live at home and attend Kirtland, a low-tuition community college.

The average cost for one year of college in a public FOUR YEAR institution for Michigan students exceeds $2,636.00. This figure is based on living on campus.

Your family could save THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS in just two years. You can attend Kirtland for $12.00 per credit hour for tuition. This means a full student load for one semester would only cost $187.50 for tuition. Why not attend Kirtland and then transfer two years of credit to the four year institution of your choice? (Tuition subject to adjustment, if mandated by the State Legislature.)

An exceedingly valuable guide is "Student Expenses at Post-secondary Institutions, 1974-75," available for $2.50 from the CSS, College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, N.J. 08540. Check out the facts for yourself! Kirtland has the best educational deal you can get for a quality education.

THE MICKEY MOUSE PHONE—A novel new telephone — the Mickey Mouse Phone — will be marketed by General Telephone beginning next week. Demonstrating the unique use of the enduring Walt Disney character is Donna Shepard, of East Jordan, now a clerical employee at General Telephone's state administrative offices in Norton Shores. Unique, also, is the fact that General Telephone will sell Mickey outright, except for the internal workings which will remain the property of General Telephone.

Pesticide Hearing Held

by Willard E. Bosserman
County Extension Director
The Michigan Department of Agriculture conducted a hearing on proposed regulations regarding pesticide applicators Monday, August 9, in Gaylord. Dr. Donald Islieb, scientific advisor and Dean Lovitt, Chief, Plant Industry Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture conducted the hearing.

The rules were made to aid in the enforcement of Act. No. 171 of the Public Acts of 1976. Act 171 was passed to comply with the federal environmental pesticide control act of 1972.

The purpose of the federal act is to give people more protection against misuse of pesticides.

What it means to the householder is that fewer pesticides will be available in the market. I'll not even try to guess what pesticides will still be available to the householder, except probably none of the present fungicides will be taken off the market.

The Environmental Protection Agency has not yet classified the insecticides. They have begun to do so and will release information on them as they do get them classified.

Pesticide uses that pose a threat to man or the environment even when used as labeled will be classed as "restricted use" by the U.S. Environmental Agency and will be sold only to persons who have demonstrated competency in their use; this means that growers and commercial applicators will need to be certified in order to purchase these "restricted use" pesticides.

Certification will be done in two categories, the private applicator and commercial applicator.

Private applicators will be farmers who will be applying restricted pesticides to their own crops.

Commercial applicators are those who will be applying restricted pesticides for hire. (Have pesticide will travel).

Training for certification of private applicators will be done by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Certification for both private and commercial applicators will be done by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Warbler

Money donated by hundreds of conservation-minded Michigan citizens, who contributed over $25,000 to the DNR's "Living Resources" program during the last year, will help pay for the project.

A specific date for the first burn has not been set, but, Byelich indicates that it will take place "on the first good burning" day after August 15." He notes that a specially trained crew of DNR firefighters under the direction of Fire Supervisor Donald D. Grant of Mio will torch the burn areas only when conditions are right — as a warm, dry day with low humidity and light winds are necessary. Winds must also come from a certain direction to keep smoke from populous areas.

The DNR developed the prescribed burning program several years ago primarily to assist forestry and wildlife programs, including jackpine and aspen reproduction, deer and grouse habitat management, blueberry reproduction, and maintenance of grassy openings for sharp-tail grouse and prairie chickens.

Byelich says the burns planned in Ogemaw County are the first ever conducted by the DNR to mainly benefit a non-game wildlife species, although the U.S. Forest Service's management program for the Kirtland's warbler has included cutting and burning of large stands of jackpine within the Huron National Forest. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has also been involved in warbler projects.

Previous management efforts concerning the Kirtland's warbler have centered on a program to control cowbirds, which have the unusual behavior of depositing their eggs in the nests of other species of birds. This leaves the warbler with the chore of hatching the cowbird eggs and rearing the young. Studies of the Kirtland's warbler-cowbird relationship estimate that up to 78 per cent of warbler eggs in parasitized nests fail to produce fledglings.

Since 1974 when the annual warbler census totaled 334 birds — lowest ever recorded — the bird's population curve seems to be swinging upward again, Byelich states. The 1974 census indicated a population of 358 birds.

"I'm still convinced that we can bring this tiny bird back from the edge of extinction," he observes. "If we can, it will be as much a human victory as a wildlife victory."

More Losses

After his two terms in the White House former President Eisenhower continued his avid interest in golf. One day, after a round on the links, a locker room attendant asked Ike if he had noticed anything different since leaving the White House. "Yes," said Mr. Eisenhower. "A lot more golfers are beating me these days."

To the Editor
Crawford County Avalanche
Grayling, Mich. 49738
Dear Sir:

The recent defeat of the first try at school millage for the Crawford-AuSable School District brings home the economic difficulties plaguing the Grayling area. It's clear that Grayling needs support for its schools. But it's also clear that in this environment, we must look carefully at other expenditures for priority of importance.

With that in mind let me raise the Crawford County Sheriff's Water Patrol as a candidate for a resource transfer to the school system. For example, this last weekend a house guest of mine was stopped four or five times on Lake Margrethe while, each time, having life jackets on each member of the party — once to check sailboat registration (not carried on board because it gets wet when sailboats dump in), once to criticize going too close to our dock while coming in to the beach, and two or three more times just to say "hello" and check to see if "things were okay". Further, one of my children was approached two or three times while sailing a small boat (too small to register) while visibly wearing life jackets just to see that things were "okay". It's apparent that there's little better for a Water Patrol Deputy to do.

I believe a proposal to increase school millage that is accompanied by at least a partial offset in County government operation would stand a fantastic chance of success.

Yours for better government,
"A Cottager"

Being North

BY MICHAEL DELP

Yep, you guessed it. Despite the fact that Wahlie and I protested, Big Willie won out in the argument about having a CB radio installed in the truck. He plans to use the handle, "Grecian Formula Will", but has trouble holding the microphone in his large hands. In fact, the microphone looks like it's about the size of a peanut when he wraps his hand around it. The other day I passed him on the highway and he was leaned back in the seat, a cowboy hat tilted back on his head, yowling something into his cupped hand. Then, I noticed he didn't have an aerial, and found out later that he was really holding a bottle of hair oil, pretending it was a microphone. Word has it that he was trying to muster up some of the locals into forming a convoy to visit the Druids.

Incidentally, from secret documents left on my doorstep, I have learned that the Druids had a membership drive and over half of the people in the county are secretly involved. You can say what you want to about them, but at least they don't spend most of their waking hours wearing suits, business suits, that is.

Wahlie is now in the Sawtooth Mountains, and is probably watching it snow. Little does he know that I snuck into his house over the weekend and poured lead into the barrels of all his weapons. He wants to take his rifles along on the Poodle Hunt, but I have fixed them so about all they'll be good for are doorstops. Which brings me to my next project: a top secret one.

A hint: after the Northern Michigan Motel is completed, I will begin construction of a giant, flying electromagnet. I can't say more right now because the NRA is already tailing me. Last night, someone in an old, beat-up four-wheeler followed me all the way home.

So, I sleep in fear of my life. My rough edges are growing out. I'm still north. I'm still employed. And in the middle of my own personal brand of insanity I hear the voice of a long-dead ancestor well up in my genes: "Lord, secure me from security."

Friends of Jim and Dot Steere would like to wish them a Happy 25th Wedding Anniversary on August 25th.

Mrs. William Mall (nee Vivian Fenton) and three children, Michelle, Bill and Catherine, of Norton Air Force Base, Cal., have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fenton for three weeks. They will be flying back on August 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Davenport have returned from a 6-week trip which started on July 5. They went from here to Washington state to visit their son-in-law, Don Brown, who has retired from the service and is now employed in the post office department. While there they went salmon fishing and gathered oysters in the Pacific Ocean. Their 9-year-old granddaughter, Lynn Brown, accompanied them on their return trip which took them down through Colorado to the southern states. They stopped at Fort Hood in Killeen, Texas to visit Max's son, Lt. Col. Ted Davenport. They had the opportunity there of seeing 50,000 troops on parade during a change of command. Coming up through Indiana they stopped at Dyer to visit Max's brother-in-law, Bob Frey, in Leslie, Mi., they visited another son, Gary Davenport. Lynn is staying with her grandparents until Aug. 28 when she will fly back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kessler and children of Saginaw spent a week in the UP. On their return trip they stopped and stayed with their parents, the Jerome Kesslers, for a couple of days. Tom Kessler of Lansing spent last week visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smock are grandparents to a set of twin girls born on August 13th to their daughter, Beverly Nicalaison. They were named Cynthia Kay, who weighed 4 lbs. 13 1/2 ozs. and Heidi Jean, 4 lbs. 12 ozs. They also have a great grandfather, Frank Schmidt, and a great grandmother, Jessie Smock, both of Grayling. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nicalaison are grandparents from Grand Marais, Minnesota.

Cherry County Playhouse

The theatrical debut of Tom Smothers in "Play It Again Sam" at the Cherry County Playhouse has set a new all time attendance record. Mr. Smothers, who recently announced the retirement of The Smothers Brothers act on "The Tonight Show", played to a 100% capacity during his week long run at the Traverse City summer stock theatre. Smothers will now return to the Brothers act for the remainder of the year. His plan for the future includes film work and the possibility of more legitimate theatre work.

The last show of the Cherry County Playhouse season will be a special two week run of the musical "I Do! I Do!" Starring in the Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt musical will be British film and stage star Sally Ann Howes. Ms. Howes is best known by American audiences for her performances on Broadway in "My Fair Lady," "What Makes Sammy Run," "Camelot," and her co-starring role in the film "Chitty, Chitty, Bang, Bang".

The Cherry County Playhouse Junior Players will be presenting the final children's show of the 1976 season on Friday, August 20 and Saturday, August 27 at 10:30 a.m. For their final offering the Junior Players will present a comic melodrama "The Shagwood Secret" or "Double Deal at the Dirty Dog Saloon". The melodrama replaces the previously announced production of "The Magical Pied Piper".

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr. Henry, Biaha and Rosi, nurses, Sisters, and staff of Mercy Hospital for the special care I received during my recent illness. Thanks to my many kind friends and relatives for their visits, flowers and cards and well wishes. Also thanks to Rev. Father L. Ivandic and Father Dawson for their prayers and visits. It means so very much to me. May God bless all of you.

Sincerely

THE FOLLOWING NOTICE OF HEARING IS GIVEN
PURSUANT TO THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION'S ORDER IN CASES NO. U-4840 AND U-4621 DATED APRIL 12, 1976.

Monthly hearings will be held before the Michigan Public Service Commission for the purpose of considering authorization to permit Consumers Power Company to reflect in monthly billings to its customers charges or credits for changes in appropriate items of expense associated with purchased and net interchange power from a base cost included in previously approved rate levels.

A hearing will be held on September 10, 1976 at 9:30 AM in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan to consider inclusion of a proposed purchased and net interchange power adjustment charge of minus .38 mills per kilowatt-hour to be applied to bills rendered to Consumers Power Company customers in the October 1976 billing period.

The hearing shall be for the purpose of determining the amount of purchased and interchange power expense incurred during the calendar month of July 1976 and the reasons therefor. Details of the calculation of the proposed adjustment will be presented along with a summary of net system kilowatt-hour requirements including details of the various types of purchased and interchange power transactions and circumstances necessitating any outages of installed capacity for a period exceeding ninety (90) days. proposed rules for the implementation and enforcement of the Barrier Free Design Act. This hearing is in Lansing on September 1, 1976.

I have received unofficial word that M-72 East and I-75 BL North have been re-classified by the State Highway Department and now will come under the State Sign Act. Speaking of signs I overheard a remark regarding the political signs still dotting our landscape here in Crawford County. I concur, it will seem good when we can again see the trees.

Passage of the school millage has relieved the immediate problem of educational funding for the coming year. The real problem, our property tax structure still remains. We must not overlook that fact. People in this community who worked so hard on the school election along with those who opposed the millage should now join forces and put that much effort into the task of changing our method of school financing.
